

Home > Articles > Real Wedding: Candy Galore

Real Wedding: Candy Galore

26/04/13 | by Emilia Hii

1

1

Planning a wedding is a complicated task. Imagine planning two – and planning it remotely! When Colin and Kirsteen decided to have a double celebration – one in their current home town of Perth and another in Kuala Lumpur, they decided that they needed expert assistance. As it turned out, this decision was the best investment they made.

With Mandarin Oriental set as the venue, Leticia from Elysium Weddings and her team set to work.

Photos are courtesy of Elysium Weddings.

After consulting with three other wedding planners, the couple decided on Leticia's services due to her experience in the business. She also proved to be an effective communicator – vital when trying to correspond from afar! According to the groom, there were over 1,000 email exchanges over the course of nine months – not including all the Skype calls and Whatsapp messages. Ahh... don't we just love technology!

A personalised photo 'frame' / background set up for the couple and guests to capture fun pictures. As with all weddings, there are many moving parts happening behind the scenes, not to mention all the vendor negotiations and constant follow ups months leading to the actual day. Amongst the many benefits of engaging a reputable wedding planner – they navigate the vendor contracts on your behalf, keep you in track with required payments and of course advise you on the multitude of decisions you will have to make.

Loving the spin on the stage backdrop. Elegant and and clean with a modern twist. Coral and platinum is a refreshing colour palate carried throughout the table decorations and stationery.

Loving the spin on the stage backdrop. Elegant and clean with a modern twist. Coral and platinum is a refreshing colour palate carried throughout the table decorations and stationery.

Ultimately, you should hire a wedding planner you trust whole-heartedly! Someone with the credentials and whom you believe will carry your vision to fruition.

Congratulations Colin & Kirsteen!

If you want to know more about the services provided by Elysium Weddings, be sure to visit their web-site.